KUALA LUMPUR, Dec 22 -- Yayasan TRC (YTRC), the philanthropic arm of TRC Synergy Bhd (TRCS), recently distributed food packs to the country's frontliners, especially health workers and law enforcement officers.

YTRC, in a statement, said the initiative was part of the company's corporate social responsibility to express their appreciation to frontliners who remain dedicated to protecting the health and wellbeing of the people during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"Health workers and law enforcement officers are the frontliners who still carry out the duties and responsibilities to combat the COVID-19 pandemic to this day, in order to maintain the safety and wellbeing of Malaysians.

"A large number of them also suffer from symptoms of extreme stress due to excessive workload for a long period of time. Therefore, it is appropriate for us to appreciate their sacrifices and perseverance," the statement read.

Through the programme, a number of food packs were handed over to the management of selected hospitals such as Putrajaya Hospital, Serdang Hospital and Tengku Ampuan Rahimah Hospital, Klang, as well as Hulu Kelang Police Station and Taman Melawati Police Station.

These locations were selected as they are located near the Trans Resources Corporation Sdn Bhd (TRC) headquarters and project sites, namely the Sungai Buloh-Serdang-Putrajaya MRT2 Project (Packages DPT201, S208 & V205), as well as the Mixed Development Project in Plot 8MD3, Precinct 8, Putrajaya.

The contribution was presented by TRC acting chief executive officers and YTRC Working Committee deputy chief Siti Sarlina Abdul Rahman, with the top management representatives for each project, as well as YTRC volunteers also present.

According to the statement, the programme is also one of the COVID-19 Special Assistance series that has been proposed by YTRC as a sign of solidarity with the groups affected by the pandemic.

"YTRC hopes that this noble effort can bring joy to the frontliners and boost their spirit to remain committed to providing the best service for all Malaysians," it said.
